Library to host ‘green’ program

HICKORY—Worried about this winter’s heating costs?

An upcoming program at St. Stephens Branch Library will help.

“You Can Do It—Easy Energy Savings” is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Sept. 25 to show you how to save energy and the planet with simple household tips. Money-saving coupons will be distributed along with a drawing for energy conservation kits.

Extension Agents Glennie Daniels and Kelly Groves will present the one-hour program. Registration is not necessary.

For more information, contact Donna Fox at the St. Stephens Branch, 256-3030. St. Stephens is located at 3225 Springs Road in Hickory and is part of the Catawba County Library System.
